

The background of the cover is a brown, textured material with a large, embossed tree on the left side. The tree's trunk and branches are deeply carved into the material. To the right of the tree, there is a smaller, embossed acorn. The entire surface has a fine, pebbled texture.

FOREWORD

A high school annual, we are told, should reflect and crystallize the spirit and character of the particular institution it represents. It is the task of the staff to assemble, select and record events and personalities representative of these qualities. "The Acorn" has served this purpose excellently in the past. Your present staff, however, is just proud enough to believe that it is offering this year, a book which fulfills the purpose to an exceptional degree. In fact, we offer you, ladies and gentlemen,

THE BEST ACORN!

DEDICATION

In the hurry and haste of school life we may easily fail to recognize and appreciate the value of the essential services in our high school. With this truth in mind, the staff, the senior class and the student body deem it a privilege and an opportunity to dedicate this volume to the Secretary of the High School, Mrs. Elizabeth Hall.

By her splendid abilities, her quiet efficiency, her kindness and constant willingness to help she has won the love and appreciation of all whom she has served. The entire high school family joins in wishing for her a delightful cruise to the Orient this summer and a safe return.

A WORD FROM THE DOCTOR

ESCAPES

*"If you can meet with Triumph and Disaster,
And treat those two impostors just the same;*

*Yours is the Earth and everything that's in it,
And—what is more—you'll be a Man, my son."*

—RUDYARD KIPLING.

Probably there is nothing in the history of literature or philosophy that analyses in a brief space so closely and so carefully the true objective and the true value of life as the little poem "If" by Rudyard Kipling.

In our modern world we have swung far from the ideal that life is intended to build men and women. The whole idea of most of us is to find some way of escape from the burdens, the work, and the responsibilities of life. We conceive of the highest good as gratification of our senses, pleasure, holidays, everything to get away from the tasks that life imposes upon us. Of course, it is necessary for us to have escapes, and there are many and alluring ones. We go to the movies many times to avoid the task of reading some valuable book, or giving thought to some constructive line of service. We call it culture, and so in a way it is. But culture comes in its truest sense from within and not from without. We listen to the radio to avoid thinking most of the time. We are losing the art of conversation and letting AMOS AND ANDY and WALTER WINCHELL do it for us.

DR. GEO. C. THOMPSON

But in the end the building of a real man is the object of life, and that cannot be done except by hard work and hard knocks. Thomas Carlyle said that genius is the capacity for hard work, and it is very urgent and necessary that we be not, in our generation, swept away by the allurements which we call escapes from the burdens of life.

The proper balance between triumph and failure is the true philosophy of life. No one can succeed forever, at all times. All of us must fail in some of the things we do, but we must not be too highly puffed up by triumph nor too despondent over our failures. They are both impostors, says Kipling. If we take triumph as a measure of a man's worth, we may be wrong in our judgments. If we condemn man for failure in the great clash and facing of life's problems, we may be wrong there, too. Both of these failures and successes are impostors unless we accept them as the necessary and fundamental training in the building of character. He who avoids meeting squarely and fairly the failures of life has missed one of the great factors of success. He who is too puffed up with triumph is doomed to defeat.

This is not intended as a pessimistic homily, but in order to enjoy what we call the escapes and pleasures of life we must have something to escape from. We must do honest hard work. We must measure our success and our right to escape by our hard work and by how intelligently we have labored for service, and how earnestly we have striven to be good friends, good neighbors, and good fellows.

With hard work and hard knocks to go on, we are entitled to the escapes of life, without them we do not deserve our pleasures. The whole philosophy lying at the basis of this great poem of Kipling's is that the building of a man is the object of all life, whether we succeed or whether we fail, whether we triumph or meet with disaster. It takes courage and grit and honesty to do the trick.

The Fall administration of '36 may truly be classed as one of the greatest of the great. Each officer in his respective line of duty set a hitherto unprecedented record. President O'Neill obtained such programs as Mr. Amos Berg—an explorer of Cape Horn; Mr. Arthur Cone, who traveled around the world on $3.20; Mr. Hugh Sutherland, authority on the S. F. Bay Bridge; Rev. Sumner Walters of the Christ Episcopal Church; Coaches Uteritz and Fowler of U. C., and Ruby Yoshino, singer, who had graduated from Alameda H. S. Vice-President Jessen, in the one meeting allotted to her, was able to procure Jim Howard's orchestra, and a prominent singer and composer of popular music, "Pinky" Tomlin. Financial-Secretary Haden broke all previous records, and established a new all-time high by selling 2050 student cards. A record that can never be excelled. Yell Leader Lynch did his share of the work in providing several night rallies for the students. Therefore, despite the fact that the auditorium was not available due to reconstruction work, this administration will go down in the annals of Alameda High history as the model of all times.

The administration recognizes and gives thanks for the aid given by Mrs. Hunter and her Glee Club, Mr. Liotta in leading Community Singing, and the invaluable help given by the Student-Faculty Committee, under the leadership of Mrs. Hunter.

A. S. A. H. S.—SPRING '37

The administration of Spring '37 under the brilliant leadership of Bob Haden and Wanda Fenton accomplished every thing that it set out to do. Our gym and auditorium were rededicated to our use, after having been condemned for the past two years. Indications are that the long hard fight being waged during the last few years for an athletic field is just about over and victory is in sight. Work should start in the near future. A long and much needed bus has been acquired to transport our school athletes from school to school.

Since the re-opening of the auditorium student meetings have been held weekly. Through the splendid efforts of the student-faculty committee the meetings were of a high standard, varied, and were enjoyed by all. Particularly outstanding was the appearance of the U. S. C. a cappella choir of forty voices in a concert of popular and classical numbers. Mr. Ezra Decoto, Alameda County pioneer, gave an interesting review of the history of Alameda County. Especially memorable is the entertainment provided by the high school band, under the direction of John F. Kafka.

Jack Ratto, our financial secretary, has done fine work this year and has broken the record for the percentage of student cards sold during the Spring term. Yell Leader Bill Canning has also done fine work in keeping up the spirit in school.

HIGH SENIORS

The time has come all too quickly for us to say farewell to Alameda High School. Our four years passed here have been full of pleasures, happiness, and earnest work.

We entered stately Alameda High in 1933, lost and confused, but it was not long before we were a part of the school life with our own leaders, Ernie Alexander and Wanda Fenton. As sophs our presidents were Russell Peterson and Alexander. When we graduated to the rank of upper classmen we chose Alexander and Terzian to lead us on.

Aside from a very successful Junior Banquet, the feature of our junior year was the Junior Prom. The crowning glory of our low senior term was the comedy, "Come Out of the Kitchen," starring Kathryn Handloss and Ned Eisenhart. Completing our high school career with Hrayr Terzian in the coveted position of President, we gave a never-to-be-forgotten Seniorpheim.

Throughout these years our students showed unusual talents and launched out into every activity. Our class will miss its daily friendships and association. However, we are grateful for the privilege of having attended Alameda High.

The spring class of '38 have begun their road to glory with success. The genius for putting things over was created in January of '34, when a group of talented boys and girls entered the High School under the category of Frosh. This gift grew rapidly under the care and guidance of class officers, but did not have an opportunity to really show itself until the High Junior term, when, as tradition has it, that class presented the Junior Prom, a project which netted seventy dollars.

Then came the crowning achievement—the Senior Play, “Growing Pains,” a comedy in which the trials and tribulations of adolescents were excellently portrayed. The class came through with the needed cooperation so that our play broke records both in attendance, and profit. The cast was an all-star one consisting of twenty-six players. The principals were Donald Luce, Dorothy Morse, Betty Waldear, Henry Dresser, Virginia Slaten, and Ronald Slater.

We hope that in our last term at Alameda High School we will be more closely brought together through bonds of common interest, so that our High School memories may be dear and lasting.

During the past year, the class of "38" has left the ranks of lower classmen, and has made a name for itself. As 3A's under the leadership of Louis Martini, we gave a successful theatre party, and had good class meetings. This year Jimmie Smith has conducted a most successful administration. The operetta, "Patience," given by the music department was under the management of Jack Hesemeyer, and starred Louis Martini, Jimmie Smith, Dick Gentry, Tom Van Meter and several other 3B's. Then came the Swing Prom under the management of Bob Oskea, the first prom in our gymnasium in two long years. Sid Hoff's popular rhythm makers were featured.

The High Juniors are well represented in every sport and we boast of several stars, including Leonard Ratto in baseball; Bob Bowles, who broke the A. C. A. L. record in practice shot put; John Bricker, Bud Buestad, Nemo Leeman in swimming, and James Vickers, in track.

We are very proud of Meredith Vaughan and Jane Whitmore, who are both officers of the Girls' Association.

In the present Student Body Administration, Bill Canning, our star tennis player, has proved himself to be a very able yell leader. All in all, the individual members of the class promise great things for the future.

We believe we have begun our term as upper classmen with successes. Already, we have sponsored several activities which have proved to be successful. One of our outstanding achievements was our sale of megaphones for one of our football games last year. Acclamations to "Fight On To Victory!" were carried through this novel idea.

We have also given a very successful theatre party at the Alameda Theatre and an All-Fool's Dansant which took place on April first.

Our class meeting as Low Juniors proved to be a huge success. Entertainment was furnished by members within the class.

During Public Schools Week many of our advisories displayed outstanding exhibits. The most outstanding exhibits were those of Miss Bennett, Miss Payne, and Mr. Jones.

The Low Junior Class would like to take this opportunity to thank those who have contributed so much of their time in endeavoring to make this class what it now is.

If, during our remaining stay in Alameda High, we accomplish as much as we have this term, and continue to receive the co-operation of the class as a whole, we will have reason to be proud of our accomplishments.

During the past year our class has advanced very rapidly. Through the splendid support given by each and every member, several very successful projects have been carried out.

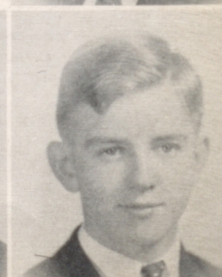

Starting in the fall term and continuing until the present we have been selling the splendid bookcovers which were sold at a fair profit. Two theatre parties were held; one in each term. They were managed by Dick Goggin and Clarence Abbot respectively and were tremendous successes.

A unique method of obtaining entertainment at our class meetings was conceived and developed by President Charles Capps when he assumed office this term. Each of the advisories in the class was charged at the beginning of the term with the task of putting on an act or skit of some sort. The best of the acts were performed at the class meetings. The most outstanding act of these brought the advisory which sponsored it a cup donated by one of the faculty, Mr. Liotta. The cup will remain in the winning advisory until it is won by another advisory.

This is only one of our new ideas. During Public Schools Week among the very best of the classroom exhibits were those of the advisories of Miss Powers and Dr. Vigness. Large numbers of people visited these two rooms and were enthusiastic in their acclaim.

In our remaining two years we hope to set new records for attendance at our Junior Prom and at our Senior Play. We are sure that this is possible because of the splendid class spirit that prevails.

The 2A class in the past term has made several successful ventures into the financial world under the expert guidance of President Kletzker and his committee.

An experienced troupe of artisans put on an excellent puppet show under the sponsorship of the 2A class, entitled, "The Nativity." The whole school heartily agreed that it was a huge success.

We were the first to sell cellophane card holders, profiting, too, by this project. These went so fast that we sold out. They were secured by a member of the 2A class, Madeline Hempson.

Following this, the 2A's joined the 3B's in sponsoring a swimming party at Lakeside Plunge. This was a huge success, being one of the outstanding activities, outside of dances, of the term.

To prevent the necessity of constant meetings and still preserve a representative government, the class has organized an executive council. Representatives are chosen in the following manner: One delegate elected by the advisory, and one appointed by the advisory president. This group meets at short intervals, suggesting, passing, or rejecting the ideas which go to make a democratic government.

Thus has the class of January 1940 progressed.

As you look at the faces in the picture above, the reader will note the happy, expectant, confident, hopeful, exultant expressions of our leaders. Each one is a testimony to the fact that in our remaining years in Alameda, great things may be expected.

The Class of June "1940" has had a most successful year. We have given a theatre party, which turned out to be both a financial and social success. We have wonderful material in the athletic field and the class expects a great deal from Herbert Cleaves in track and football; Frank Pingree in baseball; Willard Schmidt in swimming, and Pat Canning in tennis. We were initiated into the student body and given a hearty welcome. The girls' reception by the Girls' Association and our initiation brought us into High School Society. We have started out in great style and cannot fail to add to the scholastic and athletic honors.

After taking stock of our accomplishments in the brief year we have attended Alameda High School, we pause to consider our future.

Just what we will owe to Alameda we do not know. That we are already indebted to her and that our debt will continue to grow in our remaining three years we have no doubt. When our four years have passed, we will have a means for a maturer adjustment to hand. We shall learn that our education gave more than it took, and that Alameda did not let us go without giving us something worthwhile.

And thus, as we strive to gain that worthwhile something, we will give our all to Alameda, trusting that we will receive more than we give. Watch us!

Great oaks from little Acorns grow! With that healthy old saying to inspire us, we, the baby class of Alameda High School, take our place in the life of the student body with confidence that we will carry on the traditions entrusted to our care. The intense grammar school loyalties that characterized us on the day of our arrival are proving a solid foundation on which to build an even greater loyalty to the larger school of which we are now a part.

Our entrance coincided happily with the restoration of the auditorium and gymnasiums to their normal functions, and we can look forward without dismay to the extra-curricular activities which each class, in the course of its career, sponsors.

As a starter on what we believe will be a thrilling "success story," we gave a theatre party on May thirteenth at the Vogue Theatre, offering, as a spectacular attraction, "Seventh Heaven," in which Simone Simon and James Stewart play the leads.

Our greatest glory and boast, however, consists of our number one rating in student body memberships. To lead all eight classes during our very first term is an achievement of which we are, frankly, as proud as peacocks.

GIRLS' ASSOCIATION

The Girls' Association of the Alameda High School has passed a very successful and pleasant term under the leadership of President Dorothy Cotella.

As in the past the Girls' Association has taken an active interest in girls' activities, girls' interests, and girls' social service in the High School.

The money the association collects from the girls helps to secure entertainment for the meetings, of which all are of interest to the girls.

This term we have had four successful meetings. The one most enjoyed perhaps was the meeting combined with the A. S. A. H. S. Administration. The guest of that meeting was the U. S. C. Trojan A Cappella Choir, which presented a delightful musical program.

The Girls' Association is a splendid organization, an organization which is a great credit to the High School. Every girl should be proud of it.

CALIFORNIA SCHOLARSHIP FEDERATION

Mr. Reginald Saunders, Advisor

On April 14th, members of Chapter 240 sponsored a very delightful Pan-American Day program for the student body. Johnson Hall presided and introduced as speakers for the occasion the following members of the chapter: Mark Hoekenga, who spoke on "The Significance of Pan-American Day"; Natalie Kay, whose topic was, "Latin America at a Glance"; Colgate Dorr, who presented the subject, "The Americas Seek Peace in the Western Hemisphere." A Latin-American Fiesta was presented by the music and physical education departments.

During the year several awards were earned by CSF members: Sam Yagyu won the Otto Rittler medal for an all around athletic student. Hrayr Terzian, who won the Oriental Relations Silver Trophy a year ago, this year won the gold medal in the California Crusaders Public Speaking Contest. Colgate Dorr was the winner of Arnold Silver Trophy in Oriental Relations contest this year; Clayton Ross was given "Honorable Mention."

STAMP CLUB

Miss Grace Powers, Advisor

The Alameda High School Stamp Club was first organized in October, of 1935, under the direction of Miss Grace Powers. Since that time it has accomplished many things. We have had Mr. Harry Grey, stamp editor of the Oakland Tribune give several talks on stamps. Last Christmas, members exchanged Christmas Stamps with many foreign countries. In April of this year, a Theatre Party was held at the Vogue Theatre. This was a great success. During Public Schools Week a fine collection of stamps was on display in Miss Powers' room. Since the club has been organized, the members have greatly increased their collections and have gained a greater knowledge of stamps.

GERMAN CLUB

Miss Hannah Oehlmann, Advisor

The German Club meets on Thursdays in room 204. During the fall term of 1936, we had an outing at Lake Merritt. We celebrated Hallowe'en with a masquerade party, and Christmas with another enjoyable party. In the football season, yellow and white emblems were made and sold.

This term we have been honored with talks by Miss Jolly and Mr. Agard.

Miss Jolly described her trip to Japan and spoke most interestingly regarding her experiences and impressions gained by her visit to the Orient last year. Mr. Agard had taken a year's leave of absence to spend in Europe. To the club he recited some interesting incidents, particularly those he enjoyed in Germany. These talks were most instructive and stimulating to the club.

Before the closing of school, another picnic at Lake Merritt is planned.

LATIN CLUB

The "Circulus Latinus" (Latin Club) is one of the school's oldest clubs. It differs from most by having the members not conversing in Latin at the meetings.

In the previous two semesters many outstanding events were held by the Latin Club among which was the picnic at Lake Merritt and the roller skating party.

With the peppy meetings, good entertainment and delicious refreshments we have made our club one of the most enjoyable in the school.

SPANISH CLUB

Miss Isabel Venard, Advisor

During this year the Spanish Club has held regular and interesting meetings on the second Thursday of each school month.

The meetings of the Fall Term were under the leadership of Magdalen Hernandez and fellow officers of the club. The outstanding meeting of the term was the Christmas party, given in the Little Theatre at which time the Mexican Christmas custom of making the pinata was observed.

The Spring Term has continued the tradition of holding meetings of distinct types, with the entertainment furnished chiefly by club members. At one of these meetings Robert O'Keefe played several Spanish selections on his accordion. A special meeting held toward the end of the term featured a short, witty, Spanish play with Janice Smith, Marjorie Cline, Randolph Hall, Sterling Shubert, and Donald Venton.

It is the wish of this term's officers that next year the Spanish Club may go forward with the same enthusiasm and success it has displayed this past year.

The Cercle Francais is one of the largest and most enthusiastic clubs in Alameda High. There are 74 paid-up members, and the attendance at the meetings is usually larger. Varied programs are planned for the monthly meetings. This term we have had a valentine party, a student talent meeting, plays by the members of the 4AB class.

The biggest event of this term was a theatre party held at the Campus Theatre, where Les Miserables was presented in French. This is said to be the finest film ever produced in France.

THE PEN AND PLUME SOCIETY

The Pen and Plume Society, a club intended to promote an interest in creative writing among the students of the Alameda High School, was founded this term under the guidance of counselor-parliamentarian, Mr. Franklin Cummings. Under the presidency of Earl Shubert and under his corps of officers, Audrey Cameron, Dorothy Luce, and Kazumi Sonoda, the club has recruited a score of members who are interested in the movement and who are promising great things for the future.

BOYS' BLOCK "A" SOCIETY

Under the capable leadership of Coach Rittler and officers, the Block "A" Society had an active and successful year.

Nothing was enjoyed more than when the boys worked to make seventy-eight Thanksgiving baskets, made possible by the generous donations given to us by the merchants and gym classes.

During the recent Washington-California crew race, the society, with the help of the high school crew, made a profit of two hundred and ninety dollars. This was accomplished by putting bleachers at the end of the race, and the money has been divided between the crew, Girls' Block "A," and Boys' Block "A" societies.

Enjoyable skating parties were held with more than two hundred students attending.

With a whole-hearted spirit of cooperation, the members backed our Dads' Club for their drive toward the new athletic stadium. We take our hats off to you, dads, for your impressive start toward the athletic stadium.

GIRLS' BLOCK "A" SOCIETY

The Girls' Block "A" Society members are now wearing a uniform white sweater upon which is the newly adopted chenille "A." The society raised the money for these sweaters by giving a bridge tea in February and by selling book-marks and pots of artificial flowers.

At our dansant a beautiful "Top-Flite" tennis racket was given away.

The Block "A" Society has a reserve fund to which one-third of our dues is contributed each term. This fund is used for some worthwhile purpose.

Company, "Ten-Tion! Forward, March!

Every morning at eight o'clock, 250 cadets are brought to order by these commands, and every morning when they are on parade, a crowd of students line the walks to watch the spectacle. For Alameda High possesses no ordinary military group; we have one of the finest on the coast.

During the last two semesters the local unit has come under the new direction and leadership of a new Professor of Military Science and Tactics, Major Bowler. As usually happens when the command is changed, several remarkable changes have been effected in organization and operation. The entire unit immediately buckled down to learn the new routine and become better acquainted with its new head. How well this was accomplished may be seen by the tremendous popularity of Major Bowler.

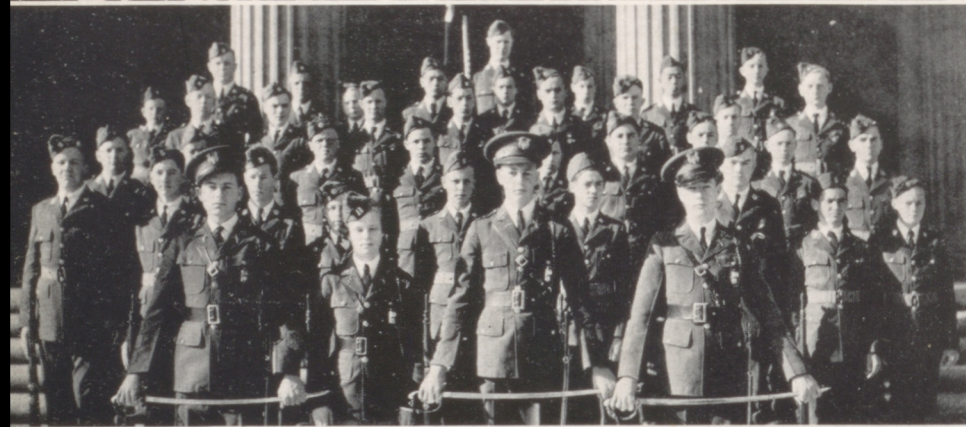

Parades, Military Ball, and Federal Inspection have also taken their places among the successful school activities, so that, all in all, this term has been one of the most successful in recent years that the R. O. T. C. has enjoyed.

OUR GLEE CLUBS

The Alameda High Glee Clubs, directed by Mrs. Hazel B. Hunter, were distinguished again this past year by the zest which has become so characteristic of them. Their most noteworthy accomplishment this term was the production of the comic opera, "Patience," by Gilbert and Sullivan, starring Martha Gullman, Louis Martini, Dorothy Mallock, and Bob Mercer. Other activities included a Christmas Program in December, a Pan-American fiesta in April, programs for student meetings throughout the year, and a June tea party of the girls. Many of the members also participated in the recent Seniorpheum.

OUR BAND AND ORCHESTRA

The Alameda High School Orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. John F. Kafka, has attained a high standard of ability in playing symphonic music. The Orchestra, which won first place among the Class A orchestras of Northern California, played an important part in the production of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Patience" this spring.

The Concert Band, also guided by Mr. Kafka, plays standard selections in a very creditable manner. Besides giving concerts in public, this group plays for many football games, rallies, and student meetings.

Both organizations number fifty members.

ATHLETICS

OUR GOLF TEAM

Coach Gilcrease, as usual, developed another outstanding golf team this year. They went through their practice season trouncing all the high school teams, and losing only to colleges. They also won the Northern California Junior Championship, in which Jack Klein won the first flight. In the A. C. A. L., the team beat Richmond and Berkeley, but lost to Piedmont in the first round. The members of the team are Jack Klein, Talbert Smith, Bob Travis, Fred Kleppe, Tony Frombolo, and Bob Stovel.

OUR TENNIS TEAM

Headed by Bill Canning, the 1937 edition of Alameda High's team won the A. C. A. L. championship by losing only one of their six matches. During the practice season the team did well, losing only to California Frosh. Bill Canning was chosen to play in the North Coast Meet. The members of the team were as follows: Bill Canning, Louie Martini, Dick Goggins, Bill Dodson, and Ralph Bishop.

OUR BASEBALL TEAMS

After three years of developing, Coach Rittler finally put on the field a veteran and championship team. According to some enthusiasts, the infield ranks second only to the great varsity of 1925. Undoubtedly there are future stars in the line-up which time will bring out. The record of the team appearing below shows what other words cannot express. The members of the first string are: Bob Haden, catcher; George Wolverton and Ted Bergold, pitchers; Ned Eisenhart, first base; Jim Donavon, second base; Ray Perry, third base; Len Ratto, shortstop; Dante Sabatini, Jack Ratto, and George Fricke, outfielders.

OUR FOOTBALL TEAMS

Our Football Teams this year put up a good fight in every one of their games. The scores are misleading for one who is trying to find out the strength of the teams. In spite of several defeats, the boys came so close to winning the games that no one in the school thinks less of them for the loss.

The Richmond tussle was one of the most exciting of the A. C. A. L. games. After leading the Oilers for three quarters, the Alameda Hornets were defeated by a single point made in the final period. The Hornets outplayed their opponents in every respect, exhibiting a splendid running and passing attack. The fine sportsmanship and fighting spirit shown by the Alameda team was a notable point in this game. McCullough, Vickers, MacDonald, and Castro were outstanding.

Notwithstanding some ragged playing in the Hayward game, the Hornets came through to win after a sustained drive in the final period, featuring May and Castro. All players looked good.

The Berkeley game should never have been lost since the Alameda team was quite as strong as the Berkeley Yellowjackets. After a score in the first quarter, the Berkeley team was unable to penetrate the Alameda line again, and several times our boys made extraordinary gains. Such a sparkling attack by them was exhibited in the closing minutes of play that had the game lasted two minutes longer the score would have been at least tied. In the Piedmont game we were a little less fortunate.

COACH YOUNG

Coach Young unfortunately labored under many handicaps, particularly green material, and inadequate training field and facilities. Considering all, he did a fine piece of work.

OUR CREW

The Alameda High School Crew, undefeated in three years, has just completed its most successful season. It deserves a lot of credit, as do Russ Magler and Ky Ebright who coached the boys and allowed them to use the California equipment. The crew participated in five rowing races. They defeated Sacramento Junior College, Oakland and Fremont Highs in separate races and then defeated them altogether in the Northern California Championship. This gave them the right to go down to Long Beach, where they won the California Championship and set a new course record for high schools in doing so. The members of the crew were as follows: Felton Maillot, stroke; George McKay, 7; Dave Bridges, 6; Frank Farley, 5; George Franklin, 4; Carl Leuck, 3; Jim Farley, 2; Jack Cooper, bow; Bud Barry, coxswain; Ray O'Connell and Dick Schoning, substitutes. George Owens was the manager.

Prospects for next year are exceedingly bright. Half of the team will still be in school to form the nucleus for another championship crew.

OUR TRACK TEAMS

Handicapped by the loss of many veterans and by poor training facilities, Alameda's track team developed slowly. But although the team was not strong as a whole, Coach Louis Jolley had real outstanding performers in Captain Winford Euler in the sprints; Russ Peterson, pole vault; Sam Yagyu, broad jump, and Bob Bowles, shot put.

Although the team as a dual meet team fell far below the high standard set by former teams, Coach Jolley has many promising prospects coming up from the class B and C teams. Along with these, next year's team will be built around Bob Bowles, Slat Micheli and Tex Taylor.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Although the gymnasium has been closed for nearly two years, our organization, nevertheless, has been very active. Last term in addition to our regular sport calendar, eight members of the G. A. A. attended a play day at University High School and four members attended one at San Francisco Teachers' College.

This term four of our members attended the semi-annual play day at Hayward High School and eight were guests at the University of California. Twenty-four girls were guests at Berkeley High School.

Every week, a cabinet meeting is held in the noon hour. We have a federation paper that is published once a month, and which serves as a means of publicity for the G. A. A.

Every year, at our annual spread, the girls are presented with the awards which they have won during the preceding term. This year the spread will be a big occasion, due to the fact that the girls are enabled to earn more points by the return of the use of the gym.
